

Faria Marine Instruments acquires Maptech Software

The Thomas G. Faria Corporation and Faria Marine Instruments announced that they have acquired the right, title and interest of certain marine related software products from Maptech Inc. of Amesbury Massachusetts. The purchased software is utilized by Faria in their suite of Maestro™ touch screen navigational products. Faria has also hired several former Maptech engineers.

Faria President David Blackburn stated that “we are enthusiastic about having completed this acquisition and we feel that owning these software platforms will allow us to take this technology to the next level – a process that has been underway for some time now but I expect will accelerate under our ownership.”
